Discovery Place Nature

While not every mammal pictured here lives in Mecklenburg County, there are about 50 different species of mammals that can be found here. You can find nine species of bats, three species of weasels, three species of squirrel, four species of shrews, just to name a few. You may be surprised which ones can be found in your neighborhood.

Our special guest speaker this month will be Marvin Bouknight, Director and Naturalist at Discovery Place Nature. Marvin will highlight certain species, discuss diversity, our Piedmont and urban habitat and man's impact on their activity. Learn more about the wildlife that share our landscape.
